

World History - Rome or Greece News Report (for the radio)

Name: _____ /100 PTS

Assignment: You will work in pairs and assigned a topic (person or event) related to either Rome or Greece. You will research your topic and create a minimum 90-second news report as if you were a reporter on the scene – either describing the event or interviewing an individual at the event.

Your report can be either:

- Live report/interview in front of the classroom
- A recording that is played during class (An audio recording or YouTube video)

Objective: Your news report should be clear with details so that an individual unfamiliar with your topic can understand what happened, where it happened, who it impacted and why it is important. Please try to be creative to keep your audience's attention.

Your news report should:

- Explain the individual or event (especially the top three things the viewers need to know)
- Describe with details from reporter's/individual's POV ("point of view")
- Contain accurate information
- State significance of the individual or event
- Be creative
- Reflect the time and effort that went into it
